Mike Hogan Wins the Name Your Game Tourney

Results provided by Rich Montoya

Mike Hogan, the eventual winner of this Name Your Game Tournament, fought from behind day long. He was down 3-0 in every match (except for the finals) and managed to persevere to capture his first Stay in Stroke title. He beat Pepe Lopez, Ricardo Bonnillo and Ross Smith in the 12's bracket. From there he moved to the final board where he had to beat the champion of the 13's and up, Johnny (One-Time) Vasquez and Jessica Moxon, the champion of the 10's bracket, in the finals. Congratulations Mike.

Aimee Peterson finished 2nd in the 10's & 9's bracket as well as the final board. She was defeated by Holly Figueroa in the first round but kept her cool, got focused, and started her trek to the finals. She beat Frankie Lester, Josh Ramey, Mike Sorden, and got revenge against Holly in a very good match. Then to make it to the final board, she defeated Art Sievers. Next, Aimee beat Tommie Ceja, winner of the 8's & 7's bracket and then faced Johnny (One-Time) Vasquez, who always seems to be around the cash. In the semifinals, she beat Jessica Moxon (who by the way has one of the best win-loss records in Stay In Stroke Billiards history) before succumbing to Mike Hogan in the finals. Congratulations Aimee!!!

Aimee Peterson, Runner-up

This is the first time that three players got moved up in their rank; Jessica to an 11, Aimee to an 11 and Mike (who said that he welcomes it) to a 13. Thank you to everyone who participated -- 34 players in all! Please support billiards in Colorado, read the Cue Times Billiard News, buy a cue, teach someone, take a lesson, get some experience and always try to "STAY IN STROKE".

Tell Me Something I Don't Already Know

by OMG

*From the Editor:
An Oldie but Goodie....*

Thursday, April 19, 2007

On this fine afternoon, I decided I'd pop on down to my local pool hall and hit some balls. It was early, and there were not very many players present.

I got a table at the back of the room and set up a row of balls to practice a drill of cutting the object ball with draw.

I popped in my iPod earphones and I was ready to be whisked away to a pleasantly grueling practice session (mental meltdown optional).

I went through the drill once and set up the balls again. A guy took a table next to me and starting hitting balls, slamming the cue ball at a hundred miles an hour with each shot while strutting dramatically around the table. I was slightly irritated, because the whole row of tables was open, so he could have taken a table one over, thus giving both of us more room. But, whatever. You could tell, without a second look, that this was your typical frat-boy-wannabe-hustler. I made a mental note that he was an idiot, and continued with practice.

I was doing pretty good on the drill on my third try and I was bopping happily along to Sesame Street when I felt a tap on my shoulder. I turned around and it was Next Table Guy. He motioned for me to take out my earphones, so I did.

"You know, those shots you're practicing are all right, but there's one shot that's more important than any other shot."

Oh. Really. Greeeat. I really wanted to say, oh the Jack Daniels shot? Of which you've obviously had too many? But, I really am trying to be a Kinder, Gentler Asshole these days. I said (without any facial expression, so that I would not encourage his bad habit), "And what is that."

He leaned in conspiratorially with an expression leading me to believe he was about to impart something so monumental the balance of the universe would be tilted immediately in my favor once I knew what it was.

"That shot," he said, his very ear-hairs crinkling with excitement, "is--the BREAK."

At that moment, I realized I would never grow old. Why? Because I managed to keep a straight face. I think I have natural reservoirs of Botox under my skin. It's all part of being bitter and filled with venom.

"Is it now," I said, completely deadpan. "That's good to know."

I popped my earphones back in and got back to my drill. I had just lined up as children's voices were asking if I could tell them how to get to Sesame Street when--tap, tap--Next Table Guy was gesticulating yet again. Against my better judgment (but following my 12-step program of becoming a Kinder, Gentler Asshole--ask first, throw punches later), I turned and said, "What."

"You don't believe me?"

"Believe what."

"That the break is the most important shot?"

"I already knew that. Before you told me." I turned away, secure in the sense that in the shopping mall of the afterlife, I had unlimited store credit. I had the earphones close enough to hear the end of Sesame Street blending into Mr. Rogers Neighborhood when Next Table Guy did the unthinkable.

2013 WPA World Artistic Pool Championship A Resounding Success!

The 12th WPA World Artistic Pool Championship finished after 4 days of exciting competition from July 18 – 21, 2013 at the luxurious Rio All-Suites Hotel and Casino in Las Vegas, Nevada. This event was held during the 37th BCAPL National Championships under the sponsored venue umbrella of CSI (Cue Sports International). There were 31 Artistic Pool Playing Artists from around the world competing for 9 separate world titles (1 overall + 8 discipline champions).

Thirteen competitive sessions were conducted over the 4-day period with the final session showcasing the top 6 scoring players (after the 1st 6 disciplines). Andy Segal, Nick Nikolaidis, and Sebastian Giumelli were neck and neck on the final few challenges, but Andy displayed great poise and burning focus to capture the “overall” title, posting a very impressive score of 254 points out of 320 points possible for the 40 shots / challenges done. Nick and Sebastian were tied at 245 points each, but Nick finished in 2nd place based on more 1st attempt makes. Congratulations Andy for a great championship victory!!

Artistic Pool focuses on specific cueing challenges skillfully attempted under 8 discipline categories as follows (title winners are listed after each category): 1) Trick / Fancy Shots – Nick Nikolaidis (perfect score), 2) Special Arts – Florian Kohler (perfect score), 3) Draw Shots – Nick Nikolaidis (perfect score), 4) Follow Shots – Gabi Visoiu, 5) Bank / Kick Shots – Javier Gomez, 6) Stroke Shots – Jamey Gray, 7) jump Shots – Abram Diaz, and 8) Masse Shots – Steve Markle. Congratulations to each discipline champion!

Two awards were also presented for special recognition. A Sportsman-ship Recipient voted on by the players was awarded to Michael “Sergio” Andrusko. A new award this year called the Rising Star Recipient Award was presented to Steve “The Steve” Murphy as the highest scoring player based on designated factors of eligibility. This award idea and medal / ribbon was sponsored by Tim Chin to recognize “up and coming” players in our sport. The APD would like to thank Tim for this special sponsorship effort and congratulate Sergio and Steve for their special recognitions / achievements.

We would like to thank: CSI (Mark Griffin, David Vandenberghe, Bill Stock, and staff) for their hard work and sponsorship in organizing this great event at such a fantastic venue; all of the players that participated / helped to make this a very memorable event; Dr. Cue for directing the Championship; the APD committee members for their administrative help; players, fans, and special guests that performed various duties; plus each performer entertaining a large audience during the Saturday night media / fan / sponsor appreciation experience!!

We extend a special “thank you” to all of our valued Artistic Pool monetary / product / service sponsors – WPA, CSI, Badboys Billiard Productions, Dr. Cue Promotions, Robertson Custom Cues, Dr. Popper Jump Cues, Diamond Tables, Cyclop (Phenolic Billiards), Aramith (TV Pro Cup Cue Balls), Executive Billiards (Delta Racks), McDermott Cues, Jason Lynch for his professional streaming and electronic scoring services; and Brenda Lee’s Mobile Entertainment (special photography / CD / video services).

On behalf of the WPA APD committee board, the 2013 WPA World Artistic Pool Championship was a highly successful event sanctioned under the WPA umbrella for the growing sport of Artistic Pool. Look for future Artistic Pool information at:

APA Family Mourns the Passing of Co-Founder and Billiard Hall of Famer Larry Hubbart

LAKE SAINT LOUIS, MO (August 23, 2013) — The APA network is sad to report the passing of APA Co-Founder and Billiard Hall of Famer Larry Hubbart. Hubbart, passed away on August 22 at his home after a long battle with various health issues. Hubbart leaves behind his wife, Nancy, six children, eight grandchildren and countless family and friends.

Larry Hubbart

Hubbart teamed with partner Terry Bell, to establish the vision for the APA Pool Leagues. That vision lead to an organization that today boasts more than a quarter-million active members and hosts the world’s largest pool tournament.

“We’re all extremely saddened by Larry’s passing. He was a great man who was dedicated to his family, his business and to the sport of pool. Larry fought a very courageous battle the past few years, and we hope he has finally found some peace. Our prayers go out to Nancy and the entire Hubbart family,” said APA President Renee Lyle.

Hubbart’s last public appearance came in October 2010, when he and Bell were inducted into the Billiard Hall of Fame.

It was perhaps the crowning achievement for a life devoted to the sport of pool.

Originally from Rochester, N.Y., Hubbart was one of the top professional poolplayers of his era during the late 70s and early 80s, winning numerous titles including the 1976 U.S. Open 8-Ball Championship, 1977 World 9-Ball Championship and the 1979 World 8-Ball Championship.

He will best be remembered however for bringing countless amateurs to the sport of pool through the APA Leagues. In the late 70s, Hub-

The APA, based in Lake Saint Louis, Mo., sanctions the world’s largest amateur pool league, known as the APA Pool League throughout the United States, and as the Canadian Pool League in Canada. Nearly 270,000 members compete in weekly 8-Ball and 9-Ball League play. The APA is generally recognized as the Governing Body of Amateur Pool, having established the official rules, championships, formats and handicap systems for the sport of amateur billiards.

The APA produces three major tournaments each year—the APA National Team Championships, the APA National Singles Championships and the U.S. Amateur Championship—that, together, pay out nearly $1.5 Million in cash and prizes annually!

Ask The Viper...

Q & A's by WPBA Pro
Melissa Little

At one time, people said he was THE best bar table player in the world; he has won hundreds of tournaments around the USA and was nominated "Player of the Decade" in the 80's. It was a pleasure and honor to interview David and just to let you know this is the only interview he has given to the press. So thank you David for giving us a glimpse into your personal and professional life.... ☺

The Interview:

Viper: Where were you born?

Dave: I was born in Fort Carson, CO – I was a military brat because my dad was in the army.

Viper: What are your biggest accomplishments in the sport of billiards?

Dave: The one tournament that really stands out is when I won the 2006 Derby City Classic Banks event and during the same week had a 5th- 8th place finish in the One-Pocket event. These high finishes gave me enough points to have finished 2nd in the All-Around Division.

Viper: Do you have a nickname?

Dave: Scott Smith, pro tournament director, for years has been calling me the "Gun Fighter".

Viper: What do you do when you're not competing?

Dave: I am still very much involved with the sport and am currently the house pro at Shooters Billiards in Olathe, KS. I give lessons multiple times per week. My rate is $50 per hour with a minimum of two hours booked. Teaching pool is the one thing I truly enjoy most. ☺ Viper: How would someone contact you for lessons?

Dave: They can call me on my cell and set up an appointment – (913) 269-1077.

Viper: Do you have siblings?

Dave: Melissa, I have a huge family. I am one of 15 kids – There are 4 sisters and 11 brothers. Unfortunately, five of my siblings have passed away. I am the 7th son and the 10th one born.

An Interview with Pro Player Dave Matlock

Viper: Do or did any of them play pool?

Dave: When I was younger, my older brother Jimmy played pool, but as an adult he never stuck with the game.

How did get you started?

Dave: I was born in Colorado and then my family moved to Rolla, MO. At the age of 15, I played high school football and in-between daily practices the boys and I would go to a little place called Stan's Pool Hall to play pool.

Viper: When I was a kid, I was told that you locked yourself in a room with a bar table for 6-months and came out a champion. Is any of that true?

Dave: No..... Sorry to say Melissa, none of that is true. But that's a good story!

Viper: In your opinion, what part of the world produces the best players? and Why?

Dave: There is no question about it - the Philippines. I don't really know how to answer why that's so. I do know that it's a rough life over there and they have to work really hard to get what they want – it's a dog eat dog third world country. Their work ethic is off the chart. You can just automatically see their dedication to pool.

Over the years, I have been so impressed with Filipino player Efren Reyes. He literally changed the game of pool. When he first came over to the

US, he brought a whole new dimension to us American players – He really taught us what one foul pool was by the way he kicked at balls and maneuvered the cue ball in and out of traffic for suburb position.

Viper: Who was your favorite pro player growing up?

Dave: Buddy Hall was my favorite. At one time, his 9-ball game was so powerful and when he was playing well, he made pool look beautiful to watch. It's a shame and unfortunate that today's generation couldn't see Buddy in his prime.

Viper: Did you ever play in a pool league?

Dave: No – just tournaments.

Viper: Are you good at any other sports?

Dave: When I was younger I loved to play baseball. I played with some of the best semi-pro players from MO and some of them even eventually tried out for the major leagues. I was pretty good myself for a little guy with a big arm. They didn't call me "The cannon" for nothing!

Viper: Describe yourself in three words?

Dave: The Good, the Bad and the Ugly... lol.

Instruction With Tom

www.tomrosspool.com

Note from Editor: Due to an ongoing health issue, Tom will not be contributing new articles for awhile. For now, we will dip into his vast archives while he's on the mend. Please keep Tom in your thoughts and prayers.

August 2002

Often, when players get together apart from competition they like to trot out their favorite shots. Sometimes we see a standard trick shot or two but are more likely to witness what I like to call "tricky" shots, ones that can come up in a game as problems with no obvious solutions. A Grady Mathews exhibition consists of one eye-popping shot after another, all useful in real play if they turn up. He showed me one a few years ago with such unimaginable cue-ball movement that it made me feel like the game I had been playing up to then was something other than pool. The shot came up for me last year in a tournament final and helped me move from a 6-5 deficit to a 7-6 victory. Thank you Grady.

Someday I will share that shot here but for now I want to present three shots that I learned from local players who possess enough talent and experience to rival the game's well-known stars. So, let's step out from the usual discipline and work to have fun while learning something new. Shot A in the diagram belongs to Jim Blakeman, scratch in the side pocket if cutting the object ball into the corner. You may place other balls around to make shooting the ball into the corner the only offensive option. Since the shot itself is not easy you may want to play it a couple of times, suffering the scratch, to become comfortable with cutting that ball down the rail. Once you are pocketing the ball you can shoot it with a technique for beating the side-pocket scratch. Accomplishing that requires jumping the cue ball just high enough to hit the rim of the pocket liner and bounce off of it, back onto the table. It is not a big jump shot by any one of Denver's best all-around players. It is a shot that I had tried from a book illustration but had never executed successfully before watching Jim shoot it so effortlessly. Set up the cue ball and object ball as shown with an unavoidable means so the key to success lies in elevating the back of your cue no more than twenty-to-twenty-five degrees and resisting any temptation to hit the shot hard. The ideal amount of force will send the object ball along the rail with just enough speed to get it into the pocket.

And make sure to hit the cue ball above center to give it the topspin that will make it jump upwards when it hits the pocket rim.

On the same night that Jim demonstrated the first shot, Jake Jacobsen showed us shot B. I had seen and tried this one before with some success but no consistency for the same reason that I had problems with the first shot. I had been shooting too hard and hitting the cue ball too low. Set up the bank shot shown with the object ball frozen to the rail. The challenge is to bank the object ball cross corner and avoid the double kiss, an impossible task with a conventional hit. However, a jump shot makes the bank possible and a little practice will provide enough consistency to attempt it in a game under favorable conditions.

You Name It and We've Got It!

Ask The Viper...

Dave Matlock

Viper: If you had to live your life over again, what would one thing you change about yourself and/or your pool career?

Dave: One thing I would change is that I wouldn't have played so much on the bar table. I wish I had played more on big (9 ft.) table. I never really gave myself an opportunity to try and get the recognition of becoming the #1 player in the world. I never played a full year out on tour.

But don't get me wrong, I still had a lot of enjoyment playing on the bar table. If a younger player was making a choice to which table to start off on, I would suggest playing on the 9 ft. table. Besides, these days everyone plays well on the bar table.

Viper: How do you prepare for events?

Dave: I always practiced by myself and before big events I would put in at least 6-7 hours a day for 3-4 days in a row.

Viper: What was the best advice you were ever given?

Dave: When I was 15-years-old, I was given the knowledge of the "5-System". A long time friend of mine in the pool hall taught me this technique on a 3-cushion billiards table. Later, The 3-Rail System really woke my game up and taught me how to kick, bank and play good position. I encourage all of the readers to learn about it and apply it to their game.

Viper: What is one thing that you enjoy most while playing pool?

Dave: I have always enjoyed helping other players with their games. It's an awesome feeling when one of your students comes up to you and says that they won their first tournament or banked in a shot or kicked a ball in just from learning from you! I love it!

Viper: If you could say one thing to a young up-coming player what would it be?

Dave: Stay in school and focus on your studies. It's so important to follow your education and it doesn't take up that much time to finish high school and attend college. You can always play pool down the road later on in life.

Viper: What's your Favorite game?

Dave: 3-Cushion Billiards, Snooker and bar pool. Really ALL the games pool has to offer, I truly love them all!!!

Viper: Did anyone give you pool lessons?

Dave: Some people would share information but mostly I was self-taught and playing 35-40 hours per week always helps too.

Viper: Did you ever play in any 3-Cushion Billiards tournaments?

Dave: I only played in two 3-cushion events in my whole pool career and both were in 1975. I finished 8th in the first event and 2nd place the other one.

Okay Dave, here are some questions from some of my Facebook friends...

Bill Akers from Mediapolis, Iowa asks: Throughout the years, who was his biggest rival and who was his toughest competition on the bar box?

Dave: I really didn't have any rivals, but some of my goals were to beat players like Keith McCready, David Howard (aka "Little David") and of course, Buddy Hall. Eventually, I beat them all on the bar table.

Josh Soneathit Souvannakasy from Anchorage, Alaska asks: If he were a hustler, what pool name he would like to be?

Dave: "The Outlaw" Josey Wales.

Improve your Shot from San Antonio, Texas asks: How does he over come the jitters?

Dave: The best way to get rid of the jitters is by constantly staying in action and also playing the best players. But I want you to know that EVERYONE gets nervous and it how long it takes you to get into your rhythm is the key.

If someone has told you to never get nervous, I would have to say they are lying or they are not trying to play their best. Even the top pros get a little nervous. All it means is you're ready to go. You're ready to rumble on the table. ☺

Dave Berns Shows His Skill and Patience

Results provided by Rich Montoya

In this 10's and Down Only Tournament, Dave Berns captured his first Stay In Stroke title beating a very determined competitor by the name of Holly Figueroa in two sets.

Holly was down 3-0 in the quarterfinals match against Berns but then guaranteed herself a 3rd place finish by winning five straight games to knock Dave to the losers bracket.

That is where he went on a terror defeating Fred Martinez (9), then Desiree Strain (8) and finally Angelo Ceja (8). In his march through the bracket, Dave's experience showed and his determination sent him to the top. Dave

Dave Berns, 1st Place

Berns has now been moved to the 11's bracket. Congrats!

Angelo Ceja took 3rd and told me he had never been under that kind of pressure and appreciated the chance to experience it.

That is why the best teacher is experience. I believe that you can read all the books and watch all the videos, but in the end, all players that want to improve their game, need to go out and experience it!

Congratulations to all and thank you to Deb Love at Love's Shack. Please support all the venues, buy a good cue, teach someone and have a lot of fun competing!

Holly Figueroa, Runner Up

Here is how they finished:

1 st	Dave Berns	$150.00/$125.00
2 nd	Holly Figueroa	$130.00/$100.00
3 rd	Angelo Ceja	$100.00/$70.00
4 th	Desiree Strain	$65.00/$35.00
5 th	Fred Martinez	$30.00
6 th	Pat Potts	$30.00

2013 Junior National Champions Crowned: Hampton, Miller, Rivas, and Larson

The Billiard Education Foundation (BEF) concluded its 25th Annual Junior National 9-Ball Championships July 25-28, 2013. 131 billiard student-athletes represented 29 states at the Convention Center of the Rio All-Suite Hotel & Casino in Las Vegas, Nevada for this special anniversary event. After the four day junior billiard extravaganza, four champions were crowned from each division and awarded trophies, gift bags full of sponsored prizes, custom engraved Delta-13 Select racks, academic scholarships, and entry into the 2013 WPA World Junior 9-Ball Championships.

18 & Under Boys Division

Of the 38 player field, taking top honors in the 18 & Under Boys Division is the reigning 2012 - 14 & Under Boys champion, Zachary Hampton. In his first year competing in the 18 & under division, Hampton lost his second match to last year's top finisher, Chad Behnke, returning later to eliminate Behnke, along with two other familiar 18-year-olds, Brendan Crockett and Tyler Styer.

- 1st Place Zachary Hampton, 15 (Rocky Mount, VA)
- 2nd Place Tyler Styer, 18 (Vernon, WI)
- 3rd Place Brendon Crockett, 18 (Bell Canyon, CA)
- 4th Place James "Nick" Evans, 16 (St. Peters, MI)

18 & Under Girls Division

In the 18 & Under Girls Division, 17-year-old Briana Miller set BEF history by going undefeated to claim her seventh consecutive win as Junior National Champion of her division. Since she was 11 years old, Miller has been dominating the girls divisions, medaled at the World event, and has won more in academic scholarships than any other participant, totaling over $6,000. Taylor Reynolds put up a strong fight in the finals but would have to wait until next year to claim the thrown. Newcomer Sierra Reams impressed the stands, proving she can have both academic and billiard accomplishments.

- 1st Place Briana Miller, 17 (Allentown, PA)
- 2nd Place Taylor Reynolds, 16 (Winslow, ME)
- 3rd Place Sierra Reams, 15 (Richmond, VA)
- 4th Place Rachel Lang, 16 (Catskill, NY)

14 & Under Boys Division

This year's 14 & Under Boys Division saw the largest field of 51 players qualifying from all over the country. 14-year-old Sergio Rivas went undefeated to claim the title proving he's ready to play against the 18-year-olds next year. Rivas took third last year and defeated Texas State Junior Champion, Joey Bourgeois, in the finals with a convincing score of 9-2. Michael Evans and Nathan Diederich also had impressive finishes.

- 1st Place Sergio Rivas, 14 (Milwaukee, WI)
- 2nd Place Joey Bourgeois, 14 (Baytown, TX)
- 3rd Place Michael Evans, 14 (St. Peters, MI)
- 4th Place Nathan Diederich, 14 (Victorville, CA)

14 & Under Girls Division

The first round of the 14 & Under Girls Division saw a rematch from last year's finals match. Karsyn Terry delivered reigning champion April Larson her first loss but the 4.0 student did not give up. Larson, known to her hometown as "The Shark", fought her way back, overcoming two hill-hill matches to defend her title and represent her country again at the upcoming Junior World Championships. Larson defeated Terry and Emily Herpel, before facing Alex Booth in the finals; giving up only two games over the three matches.

- 1st Place April Larson, 13 (Bloomington, MN)
- 2nd Place Alex Booth, 13 (Mount Ayr, IA)
- 3rd Place Emily Herpel, 13 (Freehold, NY)
- 4th Place Karsyn Terry, 14 (Chicago, IL)

Online brackets were provided courtesy of Bad Boys Billiard Productions and available at CTSONDemand.com. HD quality streaming of the finals matches was made possible courtesy of TheActionReport.com.

Staff

Great appreciation go to the event staff and volunteers who have made this a first class event for years, and many more to come: tournament director Earl Munson for his 8th year of support, tournament assistants & mini-tournament coordinators Mel & Tammy Jo Leonard, National Head Referee Rick Doner for his 10th year of support.

HUGE THANKS goes to those who also volunteered their time to support the event and our fundraising efforts: Kathy Coffee, Marc & Kimberly Griffiths, Travis & Tarasa Escoubas, Taren Stewart, Josh Bustos, Cody Escoubas, Katie Bustos-Barnhill, Winfield Hong, John Leyman, Bill Stock, Buddy Eick, Dave Merrill, Darryl Farley, David High, Mike Johnson, Gibbi Tkatch, Dwayne Payne, James Hester, Janet Okamoto, Phil Eickhorn, Doug Garn. Scott Manuel, Larry Noel, and Judie Peters.

Special Thanks also go to the amazing staff at Ric & Bonnie Jones, Rich Parkeson and all of the staff at Bad Boys Billiard Productions, TheActionReport.com crew (Justin Collett, Andy Chen, and Tim Wampler), Ken Shuman, David & Linda Vandenberghe, Mark & Sunny Griffin, Mark Estes, Aric Pfeifer, the CSI staff, and Steve Schoenfelder of Pechauer Sales & Repair. We cannot thank you enough for all your support and many of your generous donations.

We'd also like to thank our guest speakers Jennifer Barretta and "The Dragon" Tim Chin for their inspirational presentations during the annual event banquet which hosted over 300 attendees (including players, family members, sponsors and supporters). Both players also participated in the popular annual adult-youth scotch doubles tournament. Barretta relentlessly helped to raise funds throughout the week through her movie sales, challenge matches, and exhibitions.

Sponsors

Please be sure to support all our amazing sponsors/underwriters and product donors who helped make the event possible: Str8-Shots.com (this year's Academic All-American Award sponsor, as well as generous supporter), Simonis, Aramith, Dr. Dave Alciatore, Tom & Janie Riccobene, Pechauer Custom Cues, CueSports International, Sterling Gaming, Delta-13, PoolDawg.com, Walgreens, The Drill Instructor, Tiger Products, Kamui, Texas Bumps, Red Robin, and RT9 Designs.

The following businesses also contributed to our fundraising efforts: McDermott Cues, Play the Game Clothing, PoolAHolic, OB Cues, Focused Apparel, Blackburn Cue Repair, Meuller, Las Vegas Photo & Video, Predator Cues, Omega Billiards, Universal Cues, Bodie Mechanics, PoolandBilliardUSA.com, Castillo Leather Goods, and Frank's Center.

Thanks also to the Mark Wilson, Lauren Nystrom, and the Lindenwood University staff who were present, actively recruiting budding young student-athletes for a chance to further their education while pursuing their billiard dreams. As always, we recognize our loyal media sponsors: AzBilliards.com, Billiards Digest, InsidePool, Pool&Billiard, Cue Times Billiard News, and On The Break News.

Any young players interested in participating in next year's BEF Junior National 9-Ball Championship or State Championships should visit the BEF website at BilliardEducation.org or call the office at (303) 926-1039.

The proper techniques and speed are very similar to those of shot A: moderate elevation, an above-center hit on the cue ball, light-to-medium speed. When struck properly the cue ball will jump almost straight up while the object ball passes underneath toward its destination. This shot will turn up in some trick-shot exhibitions where the performer will call up someone to try it. After several unsuccessful attempts by the unwitting spectator, the star will then substitute a golf ball for the cue ball and make the bank shot easily. The much-lighter golf ball bounces away quickly enough to escape the kiss as the object ball makes its way slowly cross table. Try it.

Shot C, my favorite of the three, comes from Chris Onesty, who showed it to me a couple of years ago. I have never seen anyone else shoot it or diagram it before or since. The diagram illustrates it as an eight-ball shot but it can just as easily be set up for nine ball; the requirement is hitting and pocket-ing the ball hanging in the far corner. Of the three, this shot may be the most challenging because of its speed sensitivity, but is otherwise not exceedingly difficult. If struck too hard the cue ball will jump off of the table while too soft of a hit will cause it to rebound away from, instead of along, the side rail; softer still and the cue ball will not get over the obstructing balls. The hit requires slightly less elevation than the first two shots and some inside english, right in the diagrammed setup. Aim to hit the rail as close to the obstructing balls as comfortable with a sharp, but not hard, jump stroke. The english will help keep the cue ball close to the side rail.

There you have three entertaining and, maybe someday, useful variations on the jump shot. Remember always to employ safe, jump-shot precautions. Move any nearby glass; find a corner where you can practice without shooting the cue ball toward other players and then chasing it around the room; and watch out for passersby. If you should happen to injure someone while practicing any of these shots, please instruct that person to take the medical bill to Shakespeare's and present it to me—Howard Ashford.

Sportsmanship According to Wikipedia

A Gentle Reminder to Practice It at All Times

Sportsmanship is an aspiration or ethos that a sport or activity will be enjoyed for its own sake, with proper consideration for fairness, ethics, respect, and a sense of fellowship with one's competitors. A sore loser refers to one who does not take defeat well, whereas a good sport means being a "good winner" as well as being a "good loser".

Sportsmanship can be conceptualized as an enduring and relatively stable characteristic or disposition such that individuals differ in the way they are generally expected to behave in sport situations. In general, sportsmanship refers to virtues such as fairness, self-control, courage, and persistence, and has been associated with interpersonal concepts of treating others and being treated fairly, maintaining self-control if dealing with others, and respect for both authority and opponents. Sportsmanship is also looked at as being the way one reacts to a sport/game.

A competitor who exhibits poor sportsmanship after losing a game or contest is often called a "sore loser" (those who show poor sportsmanship after winning are typically called "bad winners"). Sore loser behavior includes blaming others for the loss, not accepting responsibility for personal actions that contributed to the defeat, reacting to the loss in an immature or improper fashion, making excuses for the defeat, and citing unfavorable conditions or other petty issues as reasons for the defeat.

A bad winner acts in a shallow fashion after his or her victory, such as by gloating about his or her win, rubbing the win in the face(s) of the opponent(s), and lowering the opponent's self-esteem by constantly reminding the opponent(s) of "poor" performance in comparison (even if the opponent(s) competed well).

Tell Me Something . . . by OMG

He took the balls on my table out of their neat military formation and racked them.

"Go ahead! I'll help you learn how to break," he grinned.

Arrgh.

There is a hypothesis that I must give off some sort of vibe or pheromone that attracts redonkulous idiots and their unsolicited help/advice. I am not sure where this comes from. I have carefully cultivated a perma-frown over the years, but I guess I need a suit of spikes or some similar armor. Maybe I need to quit showering.

Anyways, I took a deep, calming breath and counted to ten before saying, "Fine. But just once. And then you go back to your table."

I may miss everything I shoot at, I may play horrific patterns (which I do), I may choose the wrong shot (always), I might not know if the cue ball is going to stay on the table when I pull the trigger (fire in the hole!), and I might not know how to make toast (charcoal, anyone?), but there is one thing I can consistently do well, and that is: break.

It is my form of therapy. Life got you down? Crack a rack. It'll make you feel better. Or at least prevent you from cracking anything else.

I took a swing, focusing generations of tiny female Asian rage at the cue ball and the head ball of the rack. The balls flew apart like roaches in sunlight and I made four balls. That's not too shabby for an eight-ball rack on a full-size table, no? I gave Next Table Guy my best so-there-asshole-now-scream nod and proceeded to collect the balls.

He actually cut me off at the pass and re-racked the balls. "That's not bad for a girl! Do it again!"

Fine. I broke the balls again, getting two this time, and sitting the cue ball in the middle of the table like a fat buddha on a lotus. Next Table Guy seemed sufficiently impressed by this. I paused a moment, and when he had no reaction, I collected the balls and set up my drill again, a warm glow of righteous superiority filling my heart.

My song list had advanced to The Fonz and Happy Days (ah, yes, happy indeed), and I was once again in the fluid rhythm of practice when--tap, tap--yes, it was Next Table Guy again. I shook my head at him. I was NOT going to encourage this idiot. He tapped me again. Oooh, that ticked me off. I am not a fan of people I don't know invading my personal space. I took out the earphones and was about to let loose a Howard-Stern-worthy stream of invective, but he once again cut me off at the pass and broke out with:

"So, you might know how to break," and as his very nose-hairs were wriggling with epiphany, he paused for dramatic effect and said, "But do you know how--to MASSE?"

Some days, it doesn't pay to open your eyes, much less get out of bed.

Ask The Viper...

Justin Wray from Salem, Arkansas asks: Which particular opponent's high gear actually made him nervous?

Dave: I would have to say Wade Crain (aka "Boom-Boom") from NC. He could put some racks together on you and he had a very powerful break. I think if I am not mistaken, he was one of the only players from the men's Camel Pro Tour that ever had a perfect Accu-Stats score of 1000, and it was in the finals against Buddy Hall.

Justin also asks: Are there any "current" players that remind him of his younger self?

Dave: There are so many great players I have seen over the past 35-40 years of my playing, but one player sticks out a little more than the others and that's Jessie Bowman. I think he's got a great all-around game and he has become quite the bar table specialist. I like his game a lot!

Richard Penny from Starke, Florida asks: What's it like knowing that whichever bar or tavern you walk into, with a bar box table, you are the winner?

Dave: It's a good feeling – in the 70's and 80's I played most of the great players!

Dawayne Pearson from Plainfield, Indiana asks: I'm curious to know his highest billiard run is playing 3-Cushion Billiards?

Dave: Dawayne, I was playing in a tournament in IL and between matches, I played 3-Cushion Billiards with a friend of mine and ran 15 Billiards in a row.

Mark Chernin from Lecompton, Kansas asks: Is he 60 years old yet?

Dave: Mark, not yet... I am 59 years old.

David Cockayne from Des Moines asks: What is his record of racks run in a row playing 9-ball?

Dave: David, I once ran 13 racks of 9-ball on an opponent.

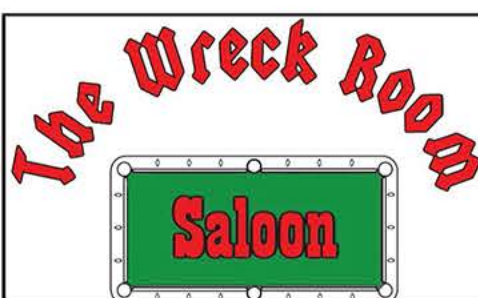

Todd Ward from Kansas City, Kansas asks: How's he deal with age and eyesight issues? I'm 47 and every day it seems different....

Dave: Todd, it seems like you need to see the eye doctor. I have not been able to see up close-up since my early 40's. When I was younger I used to hold my cue on the wrap area of my cue, but now that I am older and can't really see close up anymore, I tend to hold my cue further on the back of the cue, like around the butt end. Try it; it might help to get that extra length to see a little bit better. It works for me anyways.
